Ann brings more than 20 years of experience in accounting, audit, project, and change management in a variety of industries including financial services, healthcare, manufacturing, engineering, automotive, and nonprofit. Her experience includes budgeting and forecasting, cost reduction and avoidance, reporting and analysis, financial and trend analysis, risk management, payroll, asset management, Sarbanes Oxley, and SEC reporting. Ann helps clients assess and improve their financial and accounting functions, processes, and systems to create efficiencies, reduce costs, and achieve desired results.

Throughout her career, Ann has served as controller for a technology services company where she oversaw all aspects of corporate accounting and financial reporting, managed budgeting and cash forecasting processes, and collaborated with the CFO and other managers to generate spending guidelines. She has also held finance, accounting, and audit management roles for Fortune 500 companies, the commonwealth of Virginia, and an audit, tax, and consulting firm.
