Sarah Gobble is a Managing Director at Fahrenheit Advisors, where she leads executive search engagements with a strategic, relationship-focused approach. Based in Richmond, Virginia, she partners with clients nationwide, bringing a broad perspective and deep expertise across sectors such as finance, operations, sales, manufacturing, and construction. Sarah is especially known for her work with nonprofit organizations and government entities, where her ability to understand mission, culture, and leadership needs results in successful, long-term placements. Her clients value her consultative style and her ability to align hiring strategies with organizational goals.

With a background spanning startups to Fortune 500 companies, Sarah brings extensive experience in HR and staffing, particularly in guiding leadership transitions in the nonprofit sector. She supports boards and search committees through every stage of the process—from crafting leadership profiles to facilitating stakeholder engagement and designing customized interview tools. Her career includes leading staffing projects on Wall Street, running her own human capital consulting firm, and working with global benchmarking organizations. Known for her integrity and insight, Sarah is a trusted advisor to boards and C-suite leaders, consistently delivering results in today's competitive talent landscape.
