Catherine is a seasoned CFO and controller consultant with deep expertise in strategic planning, process development and improvement, budgeting, financial reporting, compliance, and systems implementation. She has worked across a range of privately held companies, bringing financial clarity and operational efficiency to organizations in manufacturing, financial services, healthcare, and landscaping construction.

Catherine began her career in manufacturing, spending over a decade at a company that grew from a local operation to an international manufacturer with facilities in the U.S. and Canada, giving her firsthand experience in scaling financial operations. Her ability to work effectively across all organizational levels makes her a trusted advisor to clients seeking to strengthen their financial foundation and drive long-term success.
